VOLUME CIX.--NO. 66 ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 17, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

RIOTOUS STUDENTS.

One of the most disgraceful student riots that ever occurred in Ann Arbor, Mich., happened last night.

As a result, the Star Theater, a nickelodeon, is a wreck, and the windows of the upper story are smashed; the window in the Hoppe saloon, next door, is broken; thirteen students are in jail.

President Angell, Dean Hutchins, Mayor Henderson, the city police force, and the city fire department, were unable to subdue the mob of 2,000 students. Some of the police were seriously injured.

The trouble started Saturday night when a student went to the amusement hall for the purpose of giving vent to college yells. He was ejected from the theater. House Policeman Schlimmer clubbed him when out on the walk.

The students commenced throwing eggs. The police tried to disperse the crowd. Yells of derision only brought more students to the scene.

Rocks flew thick and fast. The electric sign in front of the place was the bull's eye. Some missiles went astray and knocked out windows above and adjoining the place.

The police kept gathering in students one by one. This did not lessen the riot. Mayor Henderson was telephoned. He asked the fire department to turn out and throw water to scatter the mob.

The department, with much reluctance, made a run to the scene, and stretched a line of hose. The students uncoupled the hose and a gang of twenty boys ran away with 100 feet of the hose.

Then President Angell and Dean Hutchins were sent for to quell disturbance.

Mayor Henderson even called for the militia. As they are under National Guard regulations, the company could not respond.

Even the warning of university, city, and county officials did not put a damper on the temperament. About ten o'clock the students made a rush and smashed the front of the theater in. They wrecked chairs and rolled the piano out into the street and danced on it.

CANONIZING OF JOAN OF ARC.

The vast Hall of Beatifications over the porch of the Church of St. Peter, in Rome, and communicating directly with the papal apartments, has been decorated and made ready for several ceremonies of great splendor which are to take place this year in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of Pope Pius X.

In this beautiful hall there will be this year some big functions. One will be the canonization of Joan of Arc, the Maid of Orleans. After discussion pending nearly 50 years Pius X has decided the ceremony shall be performed in his jubilee year, and preparations are being made in France to attend it. It is believed more than 5,000 French Catholics will visit Rome on the occasion and that nearly all the bishops of France will be present and surround the papal throne.

The Pope will make a speech detailing not only his admiration for the French heroine, but also his love for France, which caused him to add a new saint to the country's calendar.

The beatification of the venerable Mother Barat, foundress of the order of the Sacred Heart, is to take place May 3, and for the occasion many members of that order will come from all over the world, especially from the United States, where the order has a strong footing.

Information has reached Rome that in addition to the big American pilgrimage which is to arrive there shortly before Easter Sunday, nearly all the American prelates contemplate paying a visit to the Pope during his sacerdotal jubilee.

Kodol is today the best known remedy for all disorders of the stomach, such as dyspepsia, heartburn, sour stomach and belching of gas. Sold here by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands who have used it? It is applied directly to the affected air-passage and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

TUESDAY EVENING MAR. 17, 1908.

THERE seems to be a well defined movement under way to enlarge the federal pension roll now amounting to about $150,000,000 annually and to counteract any natural decrease in the government's outlay for obligations incurred to volunteers of the Civil, Mexican and Indian wars. In addition to [illegible] new classes of pensioners. The first provides for putting all volunteer officers of the army, navy and marine corps on a retired list, with pay for each commensurate with the highest grade in which he served. This measure, it is estimated, would, if passed, require an extra outlay of about $11,000,000 a year. A logical companion bill creates a retired list for all volunteer soldiers, sailors and marines, with a minimum compensation of $30 a month apiece. Such an enactment would involve an extra expenditure of from $89,000,000 to $120,000,000 a year, bringing the total cost of pensions a year to perhaps $280,000,000—just double the expenditure ten years ago. These propositions are so rank that even the New York Tribune balks at them It says: "It is evident that the government cannot afford to enlarge the pension list in this extravagant manner. It is dealing with its pensioners in a spirit of great liberality, and should not expect to attempt experiments which would clearly overstrain its generosity."

TOO LATE to do any good before the vote upon the Aldrich bill is taken in both houses, the Senate yesterday adopted Senator Tillman's resolution to investigate the New York banks, their use of deposits to permanently finance speculative enterprises, and their violations of the national banking laws in aid of the Wall street gambling interests. The action places the Senate upon record, if not as favoring investigation, at least as not opposing it. But false pretense discredits the whole proceedings. Months ago Senator Culberson asked for a much more sweeping inquiry, and he urged that a thorough investigation should precede currency legislation, to make it intelligent and effective. But his resolution was not even permitted to come to a vote. It was referred to the finance committee, where it has slumbered ever since. Had an investigation then been ordered, the real causes of the panic, the misuse of money by the national banks, the jugglery and manipulation by Wall street would have been disclosed, so as to make impossible the passage of the Aldrich bill.

ANOTHER instance of the "butting in" proclivity of Mr. Roosevelt was presented yesterday when he summoned to the White House United States Attorney Baker, of the District of Columbia, and urged him to press for a jail sentence for Robert N. Harper, recently found guilty on a charge of a violation of the pure food and drug act of the manufacture and sale of a headache preparation. The law under which Mr. Harper was convicted provides a penalty of $500 or six months in jail or both. It is the first prosecution of the kind under the pure food law, and the President let it be known that he was very anxious that Mr. Harper should suffer the full penalty for the violation he had been convicted of. This matter is in the hands of the court and is one with which Mr. Roosevelt has nothing whatever to do and his descending from his high position to meddle in minor court cases is unbecoming in the President of the United States, to say the least.

WHILE THE grand jury is engaged in the commendable work of investigating all places where public gatherings take place, would it not be on the line of duty to ascertain what would be the result of a panic in the Corporation Court room. When cases of public interest are being disposed of by that tribunal the room is densely packed, and should an alarm of fire or anything else cause a stampede the fatality would doubtless be as great as a similar case would cause in any other building in the city. The Police Court room is also often packed to suffocation. In case of a panic some one would be hurt in attempting to get out.

Mr. SHERMAN, with the knowledge and consent of the Speaker, is circulating among members of the House of Representatives a request that the committee on ways and means sit during the next recess to collect tariff data on which revision work may proceed without delay at an extra session of the next Congress As now given out among republican leaders, this work is to be begun March 15, 1909. The sitting of the committee during the campaign is expected to give assurance that revision is at hand. But after the campaign the revision will be "manana."

From Washington

Washington, D. C., March 17.

What will undoubtedly prove to be the most important meeting in the history of organized labor will convene here tomorrow. Formal call was issued on March 7th by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, for a conference on March 18 of executive officers or delegated representatives from every international labor union to discuss ways and means of bringing about some relief from the sweepingly adverse decisions recently rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States, in setting aside the employer's liability act, declaring unconstitutional that clause in the Erdman act denying the right of railroads to discharge men because of their membership in labor unions' and putting labor organizations within the scope of the Sherman anti-trust law. It is practically certain that the conference will result in an exact definition of the part organized labor is to play in the coming presidential campaign. Persistent demands from labor leaders in various parts of the country, together with a reported dissatisfaction on the part of President Gompers with administration measures which President Roosevelt is urging to supersede the Sherman and employers' liability acts, lend color to the statement that an independent labor party is about to be launched. A prominent labor leader today admitted that politics would probably dominate the conference. Fully 300 delegates will attend, representing 118 international unions. In addition, the entire executive council will be present including President Gompers and the executive council has been in session for two days preparing for the big conference. Among other things, it has drafted bills covering the matters recently decided adversely to the interests of labor by the Supreme Court. These will be submitted to the conference tomorrow for ratification. Later they will be presented to Congress. One of the members of the council, when asked today what labor would do should Congress fail to act on the measures, said: "Then we will fight for a Congress that will."

Germany has found a way to put the post-card craze to some practical account. Consul Hannah reports to the Department of Commerce and Labor from Magdeburg that two teachers in Leipzig have been appointed a central bureau to select meritorious cards for use in an educational way in the schools. Only such cards as have a pedagogical value, portraying historical scenes, nature subjects, etc. will be used. The comic is frowned upon. Prominent German educators have indorsed the plan.

The Senate committee on finance today decided to strike out from the Aldrich financial bill that provision which makes railroad bonds acceptable as security for emergency circulation. The committee also decided to restore the provisions of the present law, which limit the amount of national bank circulation that can be retired in any one month to $9,000,000. As originally presented the Aldrich bill removed this limit entirely. The action of the committee in deciding to eliminate the railroad bonds as acceptable security, created something of a sensation. This was especially the case, in view of the fact that Senator La Follette who had announced that he would begin today a speech which he has been preparing for a long time, and which he expected to occupy two or more days had intended to devote most of his time to this particular section of the bill. He is opposed to the acceptance of railroad bonds as security for circulation unless the valuation of the roads is first ascertained. He had prepared an amendment to this effect upon which he was going to speak, and if possible ask for a vote. The action of the finance committee today took away much of his ammunition.

The reported demand of President Nord Alexis upon the French consulate for the delivery of the Haitien revolutionary refugees that have sought shelter therein, is projecting a situation which is almost certain to involve the United States. Although there are no refugees at present in the American consular agencies, it is looked upon as almost impossible to keep them out, if the present reign of terror continues. Several times within the past few weeks, the agencies have been cleared, only to be occupied again by refugees. As soon as one detachment is ushered out of the door, another finds its way in through the window. It there should be a general scramble for protection, the United States would be in the same situation as France and Germany. The cruiser Des Moines, in addition to the Eagle, was today ordered by the Navy Department from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Port au Prince, Haiti, to protect American interests. The British man-of-war Indefatigable steamed into the harbor late last night. The Bremen arrived early today.

The President has served notice upon the leaders in Congress that certain bills in which he is interested must be passed this session. If they are not put through reasonably soon, he will send in a message again calling attention to the necessity for such legislation. Whether this message which will probably deal with desired amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law, and a new employers' liability law, will also threaten Congress with an extra session, is not divulged by the President's spokesmen, but it is said to be quite within the range of possibility.

Charles F. Schwab, the principal owner, and F. S. Meiggs, the general manager of the Bethlehem Steel Company, called upon Secretary Metcalf today to ask the co-operation of the Navy Department in maintaining the present force of workmen at the big plant. Much of the work for the Navy Department is done at the Bethlehem works and Mr. Schwab asserts that the present force of skilled employees, who manufacture the armor, gun forgings, and other ordnance supplies, have been built up after much effort and that it would be detrimental to the interest of the navy to have it disbanded. The company is now doing but one-tenth of the amount of naval work it had on hand last year at this time and if orders are not forthcoming the force will be reduced. The total force regularly employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company is 20,000 men, 10,000 of whom are at the Bethlehem plant. Mr. Schwab gave as his opinion that the general sentiment in the financial world was much more hopeful and said that the prospects had brightened the past few weeks.

The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today agreed to report favorably to the House the bill already passed through the Senate for the granting of police power to the Department of Commerce and Labor to enforce its regulation for the control of regattas. The bill is designed particularly to apply to the coming reception of Admiral Evans' fleet at San Francisco.

Official announcement was made this afternoon by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, that Rear Admiral Evans, on his own application, and on account of ill-health, will be relieved of the command of the battleship fleet at San Francisco, and that he will be succeeded by Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, now his second in command. Because of his coming retirement in October, Admiral Thomas will be relieved from the command on July 6, when the fleet begins its return journey by Rear Admiral Charles F. Sperry, now commanding the fourth division of the fleet. Admiral Sperry will bring the fleet home.

Speaker Cannon came out today with a master move for the Irish vote When the House met Mr. Cannon appeared in the Speaker's chair with a St. Patricks bouquet on the lapel of his coat so large he had trouble seeing over it. It consisted of a half bushel, more or less, of shamrock, in the center of which was the carnation the Speaker always wears when on the floor. No other member had more than a single shamrock.

President Roosevelt will not it is understood send another message to Congress with regard to the legislation he desires to see enacted before adjournment is taken, unless the situation Congress seems to demand it. In other words he is awaiting developments at the Capitol.

It was announced that the legislative programme for this has been drawn up and that it includes the following four articles: Passage of the Aldrich financial bill; an employers' bill; an anti-injunction bill; adoption of preliminary arrangements for a revision of the tariff by the next session. To carry out this programme it is predicted that Congress will have to remain in session at least until the first of June.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 17.

SENATE.

Charging that "the system" created the recent financial panic for its own profit, and declaring that a law making railroad bonds security for circulation, would enable the Standard oil and Morgan interest in New York to control the country's financial system, Senator La Follette, this afternoon, vigorously attacked the Aldrich bill. He declared that commercial banking "was being eaten up with financial banking" and charged that national bands had used their interest in trust companies as a convenient power in many ways. He asserted that the Morgan and Standard oil interests were being knit together and said that in so far as the country was concerned, they were a monopoly and practically one group.

Fourteen directors in the national city bank (the Standard Oil institution) he said, are at the head of fourteen great combinations representing 38 per cent. of the capitalization of all the industrial trusts of the country, and declared that there was "indisputable proof of the community of interest that controls the industrial life of the country."

"There have, through reorganization, multiplied their wealth beyond their own ability to know its amount with accuracy," he exclaimed.

Alleging that the railway lines represented on the board of the national city cover the country like a net work, he criticised the Treasury Department for its failure to recognize the necessity of requiring national banks in the greater cities to classify their returns, so that it, and the country at large, could be advised definitely as to the bank's operations.

The Senator accused the railroads of sounding a false alarm and cutting down train service and side tracking freight, all for the purpose of creating public opinion against the passage of the rate law.

Of the panic, which he charged "the system" with having manufactured, he painted a picture in mock heroics, of how Rockefeller and Morgan stepped into the breach last fall. "How beautifully it all worked out" he said.

"We have proof of their utter contempt for commercial interests, not only for the country generally, but for legitimate trade in New York City, as well Did they give aid and support to the distressed merchant and manufacturers? Alas, no. They pursued the course of the speculating bankers. They ministered to the needs of Wall street, quite deaf to the appeals of commerce. Their course was that of men who were playing with the credit of the country for a purpose." The Senator said that there were many and moving reasons back of this railway bond proposition, and declared that once the bonds were made legal for a currency issue, the good faith of the country would be pledged to defeat any legislation that suggested a disturbance of a four per cent. dividend upon the stocks.

When Chairman Aldrich of the finance committee presented to the Senate this afternoon the report of his committee, which among other things eliminated from the Aldrich financial bill the provision relating to railway bonds, he announced that the committee believes it necessary for an emergency circulation to secure the broadest basis, but that in view of the sentiment of the Senate, it was deemed proper to eliminate from the emergency bill, all matters that could raise a question between the railways and the people.

Replying to Mr. Nelson, he said his committee still had under consideration the provision relating to bank reserves.

It is learned that the determination of the committee to eliminate railroad bonds from the class of securities receivable by the Treasury as security for the proposed emergency circulation was finally reached yesterday at a conference between the President and Senator Aldrich.

HOUSE.

The House agreed to a joint resolution today, removing the famous Greenough statue of Washington, which has for years attracted the attention of tourists, in the plaza in front of the Capitol, to the Smithsonian Institution.

Mr. Mann explained that the statue is rapidly deteriorating from contact with the elements.

Mr. McCall suggested the removal was very kind, as it had been reported for years that Washington, sitting with his toga dropping from his shoulders, and with hand extended, was reaching for his clothes that are kept as relics in the Smithsonian.

The House passed a bill for the re-organization of the life-saving service.

Any bets, whether recorded or not, is a violation of the law, and will be punished as such.

MR. STILLINGS RESIGNS.

Public Printer Charles S. Stillings yesterday evening tendered his resignation to the President and it has been accepted.

Mr. Stillings' resignation is the result of an investigation of the printing office under his administration which the President ordered. The charges made by the House committee were the increased cost of printing to the departments and alleged irregularities growing out of the installation of an audit system, and that the persons in charge of that system exerted an undue and improper influence in the management of the office. Mr. Stillings was suspended pending this investigation, which was conducted by W. S. Rossiter, chief clerk of the Census Office.

Mr. Rossiter reports that he found no evidence of fraud or serious irregularity. He says, however, that there have been some minor irregularities, chargeable in most cases to bad administration, and that the methods of keeping the books are open to criticism. An apparent deficit of $568,399, due largely to unwise outlay for equipment, extravagance in purchase of supplies and increased cost of production, is shown for the current fiscal year.

The report also contains the ex-Public Printer's reply to the charges, in which he says that the report is misleading and unjust, and that had he been permitted to complete the readjustment of office conditions on the lines he had laid down the result would have been a model plant free from things which invited Mr. Rossiter's condemnation.

VIRGINIA DEBT CASE.

Chief Justice Fuller yesterday announced that the U. S. Supreme Court would hear oral arguments during the week of April 6, in the case of the State of Virginia vs. the State of West Virginia involving the question of the joint responsibility of West Virginia for that part of the debt contracted before the creation of the newer State.

Do not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is more danger of pneumonia Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Today's Telegraphic News.

From Hayti.

Port au Prince, March 17.—The British cruiser Indefatigable and the German cruiser Bremen have arrived here. The situation is quiet at present. There have been no negotiations as yet between the cruisers' commanders and the Haytien government.

Paris, March 17.—Official dispatches received here from Port au Prince today say the executions reported in Hayti all took place Sunday, and that there were more yesterday, although the exact number is not known. Other executions will probably take place today. Advices are anxiously awaited following the arrival of the French cruiser d'Estres at Gonaives, as it is feared the censor has probably prevented the situation being reported as it really is.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Mar. 17.—President Alexis formally notified the French consulate at Gonavies today that the accused Haytien revolutionists sheltered there must be surrendered to him, or he will take them by force. If he has received an answer it has not yet been made public. No one believes, however, that the French diplomatic representative will yield. The boldness of the president's steps has fairly paralyzed foreigners living in Hayti. France is protecting about 100 refugees—among them Gen. Firmin, leader of the recent rebellion and instigator of another one, the government declares, which was to have begun March 15, had it not been nipped in the bud with the assassination of Nord Alexis and the principal officers with him. Several generals and civil servants hitherto supposed loyal to the president have also sought the consulates shelter since Sunday's arrests and executions began.

London, Mar. 16.—The British Consul at Port au Prince has cabled to the government that the Haytien outbreak is anti-foreign in its character. He gives no particulars but his message is taken as verification of the apprehensions that have been felt since Sunday for European and American residents of the country.

Prosecution Forecasted.

Washington, March 17.—Favoritism to certain shippers of grain, of packing house products on the part of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, has been disclosed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. In a report issued today, following a hearing at Richmond, Feb. 19-21, criminal prosecution is forecasted. It is charged that the Chesapeake and Ohio give to favored shippers less than the published rates from Richmond south, and by means of bogus transfer slips, conveyed the impression that such shipments were from points north, and therefore entitled to the lowest through division rates.

The commission states this practice has existed for several years, and that its workings have favored shippers at the expense of the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line.

It also appears that contain records of the Chesapeake and Ohio have been destroyed, contrary to the provisions of the act to regulate commerce.

Concluding its report, which is based upon information elicited by Special Examiner John H. Marble, who conducted the hearing at Richmond, the commission says: "So far as the matters disclosed are criminal in their nature, they will be referred to the United States District Attorney at Richmond, with the request that prosecutions be instituted against all parties involved."

The Burns-Roche Fight.

Dublin, Mar. 17.—"Tommy" Burns continues the favorite over "Jem" Roche for tonight's fight here. Irish sportsmen are backing the latter heavily, however, at odds of 21 to 31, basing their confidence chiefly on their conviction that Richard Croker would not be plunging so heavily as he is doing on Roche unless he had a surprise in store for "Tommy."

A physician who examined Roche yesterday discovered that he has a "freak" double coating of muscular tissue over his heart and stomach, giving him just twice the protection that Burns enjoys against injury from body blows.

"Tommy" will weigh in tonight at about 168 pounds and Roche at 177. Both men express the utmost confidence of victory.

Dublin, Mar. 17.—Richard Croker, the former leader of Tammany Hall, and the others in the syndicate backing "Jem Roche in his fight with "Tommy Burns tonight, have decided to offer Jack Johnson, the negro heavy weight, $10,000 to come to Dublin and meet the winner of tonight's contest. The general impression here is that Johnson will accept the offer.

The Fleet.

[By wireless from the fleet at Magdalena Bay.]

Point Loma, Cal., Mar. 17.—The target practice of the fleet here will conclude on April 5, and five days later the fleet will sail northward. It is due to reach San Diego on April 12. Great preparations are being made by Admiral Evans and his officers to forestall wholesale desertions among the crews of the vessels as they are in northern waters and sailors begin to feel they are again at home.

The log of the long voyage of the fleet shows that perfect formation was maintained continuously on the journey except for half an hour when the Vermont dropped out of line to make repairs to her steering gear.

In view of the fleet's performance officers scoff at the charges make by Reuterdahl regarding the mechanism of American warships, but sustain his views regarding the armor of the ships.

The mortality record in the fleet is regarded as remarkable. Although 15,000 men have been on the vessels for 88 days only five deaths have resulted.

Kaiser Dismisses Cousin.

Berlin, Mar. 17.—The Kaiser has dismissed his cousin, Prince Joachim Albrecht, from the army, temporarily exiled him from Germany and warned him never to show himself at court again, because he persists in his attentions to Marie Sulzer, the actress, despite the fact that he has not as yet been divorced The Prince was sent to Africa some time ago in the hope that absence would cure him of his infatuation for Marie, but he resumed his devotions to her immediately following his return. The Kaiser flew into a rage when told that the remedy he had tried was a failure and promptly issued the decree of banishment.

The Lilley Investigstion.

Washington, Mar. 17.—Lawrence Spear, naval constructor, and Vice President of the Electric Boat Company told the Lilley investigating committee today that he had never boasted of his politicial influence to Richmond P. Hobson, and had never said he could "fix" the Speaker and have Hobson put on the naval affairs committee. Witness said he did not know the Speaker and had no influence with him. He also said he did not convey such an idea to Mr. Hobson. The latter must, he said, have misunderstood him.

This was a flat contradiction of Representative Hobson's recent testimony before the committee. Further on witness said:

"I had no special business with Mr. Hobson, except to post him on submarine matters if he went on the naval affairs committee. I said I hoped Hobson would get on the committee, and if I could do anything to help him I would be glad to do it. I said I supposed Williams, the minority leader, would recommend him for the place and the Speaker would appoint him. I subsequently asked him how he was getting on in his race for a place on the naval affairs committee and offered to help him if I could. He said there was nothing I could do and it was not proper for me to do it anyway, as I was connected with my company."

Witness denied ever having given any officer of the navy any money or gift in any form to make him friendly to the Electric Boat Company.

Scare in Subway.

New York, Mar. 17.—Stalled in a subway train directly under East river, with smoke slowly creeping into the cars and making breathing difficult, a crowd of frightened Brooklyn to New York underground travelers had the scare of their lives early today when they were held for 35 minutes in this position, not knowing what danger faced them and unable to prevail upon the guards to allow them to leave the cars. Three other trains were stalled between Bowling Green and the Borough Hall station, Brooklyn, but their occupants did not face the danger of finding the river emptying in on them at any moment, and their consequent alarm was not so great.

A fire in the Fuller street station, a mile above, where the train was stalled, caused the trouble. Workmen allowed a crow bar to short circuit the rails and the power went off. The wood work started to burn and the smoke quickly spread through the tunnel. Firemen soon put out the fire, but it was 35 minutes before the trains started again.

When Bowling Green station was finally reached the passengers who had been caught under the river piled off the cars and nothing could induce them to re-enter the subways.

Subway officials make light of the matter, but to the stalled travelers the danger was real.

Unraveling Murder Mystery.

Wheeling, W. Va., Mar. 17.—The arrest here today of Charles Cook and wife and James White, the police believe, has unraveled a mystery they have been working on for six months and one of the most remarkable stories on record came out through the alleged confession of Cook and his wife. Last September the body of Charles Bennett, of New Kensington, Pa., was found in the Ohio river, and while the verdict was suicide the police thought it was murder. This morning Cook was locked up on information given by his mother who also persuaded him to make full confession of his crime. With $37 they secured from Bennett, Cook and the Zane girl were married two days later and left for Pittsburg where they spent several months. When they returned to Wheeling a few weeks ago Cook was almost in a state of collapse from worrying over his crime and confessed to his mother, who brought about the arrest. White, who is also under arrest, absolutely denied the whole story.

Miners' Strike Probable.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—The mine operators have started their war to "get even" and discredit President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America. The only thing that will prevent an enormous strike now will be the attitude of the mine workers—whether to defend their retiring president, or to go even further to the operators and humbly seek peace measures. The crisis will come in the national convention when the scale committee will make its report. The two factions in the organization are still headed by friends of Mitchell and friends of Vice-President Lewis.

Wheeling, W. Va., Mar. 17.—It looks here very much as if eastern Ohio mine operators and preparing for a strike. The general opinion of miners here is that the operators are preparing to force a strike with the end that they do away with union labor.

A Mother's Appeal.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 17.—Weakened by age and almost wasted away through worry, the mother of Chester Gillette, convicted murderer of Grace Brown, his girl sweetheart, whom he drowned in Big Moose Lake in the Adirondacks, with fear and trembling entered the executive chamber here today to make her last appeal for the life of her son. She tottered as she crossed the great room and sank into a chair beside the governor's desk. Her pale face twitched and every muscle in her body seemed to quiver as she leaned forward to speak to the Governor. The latter listened attentively to the mother's plea for her son. The Governor will go over the papers in the case. Gillette is in Auburn prison under sentence to die week after next.

Closing of a Bank.

Meridian, Miss., Mar. 17.—The Southern Bank of Meridian today closed its doors. Liabilities are given at $60,000, while the capital stock is $100,000. The recent financial flurry is held responsible for the suspension.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 17.—There was an excessive supply of stocks at the opening, the market being filled with selling orders. This offset a moderate demand that came from scattered sources and price movements in the first hour, after some early irregularity were nearly all to lower figures.

There was little attention paid to news developements the entire trading being influenced almost wholly by a general understanding that the bull leaders who had engineered the recent upward movement had greatly reduced their speculative holdings and were themselves willing to see the reaction that started yesterday carried along.

After a moderate rally the stock market became heavy again with a half dozen firms selling stocks all around the room. Just before noon prices were at the lowest so far reached on the reaction.

Millionaire's Grandson Caught With Girl Chum.

Baltimore, Mar. 17.—Binney W. Earl, 20 years old, and Margaret McConahay, 19 years old, both of Burlington, N. J., were arrested in a downtown hotel here yesterday, where they had registered as man and wife, by Detective Anderson Shinn, of Burlington, who had traced them to Atlantic City and thence to Baltimore. Earl is charged with taking a $500 diamond necklace, $200 pair of diamond earrings, $300 in cash and coupons clipped from bonds valued at $1,000 from the Earl family safe. When arrested the jewelry and $8.35 were found in their possession. Earl said that he has spent the rest of the $300. He denied having taking the coupons of the bonds which will mature in April.

Burlington, N. J., March 17.—Binney W. Earl, is the son of Mrs. Frank Earl and grandson and probably sole heir of William G. Binney, a millionaire. He is a nephew of the famous Italian Princess Decamporeale, who wedded into European royalty following a sudden divorce from a former Mayor of New York.

Miss McConahay, Earl's companion, with whom he left this city last Wednesday, a month ago figured in the Trenton police court, when an admirer was jailed for passing a bad check on a dentist who had gold-filled several of the young woman's teeth.

Counselor Reginald Branch, attorney for Miss Earl, said last night that the youth had been mentally incompetent for at least three years and will be taken to a Philadelphia sanitarium.

Earl has revelled in automobiles and steam yachts and recently was given a fully equipped machine shop with which to amuse himself. He hired several skilled employes, filled the place with expensive machinery, then ran off with the McConahay girl.

TUMBLED INTO HER BERTH.

Mrs. Maud M. Baker, a young society woman, yesterday brought suit in the Law and Equity Court, of Richmond, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company and the Pullman Palace Car Company, for damages in the sum of $12,000 for nervousness and fright resulting when a drunken man on the train tumbled into her berth in a sleeper, while she was in bed, en route from Wilmington to Weldon, in North Carolina.

Mrs. Baker, in her petition, says that on June 25 last, while she was traveling at night between the points mentioned, "an unknown man beastly drunk, and so big that the trainmen were afraid to tackle him," lurched into her bed, after she had retired, frightening her so badly that she suffered a serious nervous shock, from the effects of which she was made ill from fright, being confined to her room for weeks. She says that her medical expenses alone amounted to more than $500.

Mrs. Baker alleges that after the man had fallen into her bed he was too drunk to get out alone and that the members of the train crew were too much intiminated by him to come to her assistance. As a result she was not only seriously frightened by being awakened under such unusual circumstances, but was greatly humiliated.

EX-JUDGE SHOT.

Former Judge O. W. Buchanan, of Winnsboro, S. C., whose wife is a niece of Senator B. R. Tillman, was mysteriously shot and probably mortally wounded yesterday afternoon while on his way from Columbia to Augusta, to attend the bedside of a niece who is there.

Judge Buchanan was seated by an open window in the day coach of a Southern Railway train when the train pulled out of Wards, S. C. The train had proceeded but a short distance when a shot was fired through the window by an unknown party, the bullet grazing the window ledge and entering the judge's right side, penetrating to the center of the back. He was cared for on the train until it arrived at Augusta, and taken to a private sanitarium, where an operation was performed. He is in a critical condition. Judge Buchanan was prominent in the defense of James H. Tillman, when the latter was held for trial for killing Editor N. G. Gonzales, of the Columbia State.

THE MICROSCOPE

Proves That Parasites Cause Hair Loss.

Nine-tenths of the diseases of the scalp and hair are caused by parasitic germs. The importance of the discovery by Professor Unna, of the Charity Hospital, Hamburg, Germany, cannot be overestimated. It explains why ordinary hair preparations, even of the most expensive character, fail to cure dandruff: because they do not, and they can not kill the dandruff germ. The only hair preparation in the world that positively destroys the dandruff parasites that burrows up the scalp into scales called scurf or dandruff, is Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its destroying the dandruff germ Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing.

CONDUCTOR FINED.

A special session of the Police Court was held yesterday evening for the purpose of investigating the cause of the collision between an electric train and a light engine of the Southern Railway at the intersection of Cameron and Henry streets at 10:35 o'clock on the night of the 27th ultimo. Two hours and a half were consumed in the hearing, during which time twenty-one witnesses were examined. The warrants were sworn out by Officer Herbert C. Knight and the defendants were Engineer John B. Harrington and Fireman William L. Connor, of the Southern Railway, and Motorman Charles H. Robey, Conductor L. H. Beahm and Trolleyman Norman Dove, of the electric railway. Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent conducted the prosecution, Mr. Gardner L. Boothe represented the crew of the electric railway train and Mr. John M. Johnson appeared for the engineer and fireman. Attorneys R. D. Brumback and H. O'B. Cooper were present in the interests of the Southern Railway and Messrs James R. and H. B. Caton represented the electric railway company.

Three men who were passengers on the electric train, Messrs. M. T. Dwyer, James King and Geo. W. Zachary, testified that no stop was made at the crossing. The train, they stated, slowed up, but did not stop. Others, on the contrary, averred that a stop was made and that two passengers boarded the train at Cameron and Henry streets. John H. Trimyer, who was injured in the collision, could not say the train stopped.

Conductor Beahm said the train was brought to a stop and that he alighted from the motor car, went ahead, stood in the centre of the Southern Railway track and, after looking north and south and not seeing the approaching locomotive, signaled the motorman to go ahead. The evidence of Motorman Robey and Trolleyman Dove was substantially the same.

Engineer Harrington, Fireman Connor and two engineers who were on the locomotive of the Southern Railway, testified that the engine was proceeding at lawful speed, that the bell was being rung and that a light was on the tender. Their evidence was substantiated by others.

George W. Zacharay, who had asserted that the electric train did not stop at the crossing, said he was seated in the trailer and saw the light on the tender of the engine. Witness said it was a common occurrence, especially at night, for electric trains to cross the Southern Railway tracks at that point without stopping.

After all the evidence had been taken and arguments heard, Justice Thompson dismissed Engineer Harrington and Fireman Connor, it having been shown to the satisfaction of the court that the engine (which was being backed) was proceeding at a lawful speed, that the bell was being rung and a light placed on the tender. The justice read section 3682 of the code, which is as follows:

"If any driver, or conductor or captain of any vehicle or boat for public conveyance, in the management of such vehicle or boat, wilfully or negligently inflict bodily injury on any person, he shall be punished as for a misdemeanor."

He said the evidence made it clear to the court that Conductor Beahm was responsible for the collision; that although witnesses had testified that the electric train was stopped at Henry street, others equally as reputable had averred that no stop was made. The statement of the conductor himself was sufficient to bring about a conviction, as he stated that he stood in the centre of the Southern Railway track with a locomotive a few yards away (which he failed to see) and gave the signal to go ahead. Besides all this, passengers in the trailer, testified to seeing the approaching engine. The justice stated that under the law a fine ranging from $5 to $100 together with imprisonment could be imposed, but as the court had remitted a jail sentence in a case of negligence on the part of electric railway employees less than a year ago, no imprisonment would follow in this case, although a fine would be imposed in order to uphold the dignity of the law. Conductor Beahm was accordingly fined $15.

Mr. Boothe, who represented the electric railway men, reserved the right to note an appeal today if it should be decided to pursue that course.

CAMERON CLUB.

Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, last night delivered an interesting address before the members of the Cameron Club at Lee Camp Hall. Miss Richards spoke first of the controversy between China and Japan and then of the socialistic movement in England. She said a great change was taking place in the politics of Great Britain and that the socialists and anti-socialists are taking the places of the liberal and conservative parties. A large audience enjoyed the lecture.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The memory of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was honored today by all loyal Irishmen. The shamrock was very much in evidence, and green ties, tiny green flags, and other emblems of the patron saint were worn by many. The Ancient Order of Hibernians observed the day by attending in a body a special mass in St. Mary's Church at 6:30 o'clock this morning, when prayers for the souls of departed members of the division were said. As stated yesterday, at 8 o'clock this evening a meeting of the division will be held at St. Mary's Hall, when the degrees of the order will be conferred upon a number of candidates. A smoker will follow the meeting.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

A pretty wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nemohr, on Friday night, when their daughter, Annie, became the bride of Mr. Charles E. Jenkins, of Alexandria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Mensche. None but the immediate family was present. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for their future home in Alexandria.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

THE BARK ASIA.

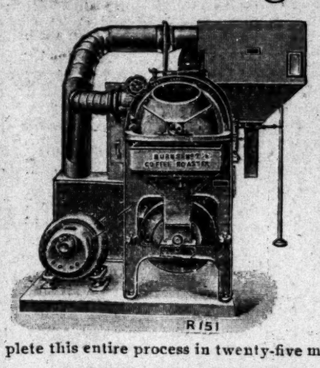
The Roasting of Coffee



Is by far the most important step in its preparation from the harvest to the table. This cut represents our roasting and milling outfit. Here the coffee is brought in direct contact with the flame, destroying all germs, thence to the suction cooler, which in two minutes drives into the center of every roasted bean the essential oils; after which it is delivered to the stoner. Thus we remove all substance foreign to our coffees, all chaff, stones, etc., and complete this entire process in twenty-five minutes.

When Actors Play to Actors.

"When he (Henry Irving) engaged me to play Ophelia in 1878 he asked me to go down to Birmingham to see the play, and that night I saw what I shall always consider the perfection of acting. It had been wonderful in 1874; in 1878 it was far more wonderful," wrote Ellen Terry in McClure's. "It has been said that when he had the 'advantage' of my Ophelia his Hamlet 'improved.' I don't think so. He was always quite independent of the people with whom he played. The Birmingham night he knew I was there. He played—I say it without vanity—for me. We players are not above that weakness, if it be a weakness. If ever anything inspires us to do our best it is the presence in the audience of some fellow artist who must, in the nature of things, know more completely than any one what we intend, what we do, what we feel. The response from such a member of the audience flies across the footlights to us like a flame. I felt it once when I played Olivia before Eleanora Duse. I felt that she felt it once when she played Marguerite Gautier for me."

The Topsyturvydom of Religion.

At the opening of King Edward VII.'s first parliament he had to repeat after the lord chancellor an oath which condemned in almost brutal words all things papistical. Yet held aloft by a Protestant peer for all Protestants to reverence was a veritable emblem of papal supremacy—a quaint little bonnet of crimson velvet turned up with ermine. This is the cap of maintenance, and so sacred is it that no hands but royalty may finger it. Thus the premier marquis, whose hereditary right it is to carry it, balanced it somewhat after the fashion of a conjurer upon a white staff. This cap was granted to Henry VIII. by Pope Leo X. In the middle ages it was held as symbolic of the overlord, only being granted to vassals and feudatories whom the lord wished to honor, so that it implies as nothing else could the supremacy of the pope over the kings of England.—London Standard.

What Makes the Heart Beat?

Professor Jacques Loeb, the celebrated biologist, in his book, "Dynamics of Living Matter," has shown that a strip cut from the ventricle of the heart put in a solution of chloride of sodium will continue to beat for a number of days, until putrefaction sets in. He says this can be done with an ordinary muscle after it has been extirpated from the body. This would tend to prove that the heart is a chemical machine and that it is all due to chemical action. The muscular contraction is probably due to the substitution of sodium for calcium salts in the cells of the muscles.

The difficulty of this theory is that it does not explain the control of the muscles. It is plain that the problem of control is not solved by the chemical theory.

A Fair Chance.

Dressed in the latest and most approved motor cycling costume, with goggles all complete, the motor cyclist gayly toot-tooted his way by Regent's park toward the zoo. Suddenly he slackened, dismounted and said to a small, grubby urchin:

"I say, my boy, am I right for the zoo?"

The boy gasped at so strange a sight and thought it must be some new animal for the gardens.

"You may be all right if they have a spare cage," he said when he could find his tongue, "but you'd ha' stood a far better chance if you'd 'd a tail!"—London Answers.

Lewis Carroll's Humor.

An English magazine gives some amusing pieces of Lewis Carroll's humor from the forgotten pages of Oxford pamphlets. During the election at Oxford in 1865 he gave vent to the following Euclidean definition: "Plain superficiality is the character of a speech in which, any two points being taken, the speaker is found to lie wholly with regard to those two points." A note is also given on the right appreciation of examiners: "A takes in ten books and gets a third class; B takes in the examiners and gets a second. Find the value of the examiners in terms of books, also their value in terms when no examination is held."

Solicitous.

An old lady unaccustomed to traveling innocently seated herself in a first class carriage, although she only had a third class ticket. The guard, thinking she had made a mistake, popped his head into the carriage and inquired, "Are you first class, ma'am?"

"No, sir, not altogether," she replied, "but much brighter than I was, thank you."—London Scraps.

Cause For Worry.

"Did you have a good time at your musical?"

"No," answered Mr. Cumrox. "Every time the band played anything I enjoyed I got worried for fear it wasn't classical enough to be the money's worth."—Washington Star.

Willing to Help.

"I suppose old Cashman has more money than he knows what to do with?"

"Yes, but his wife and daughters are ready to supply the needed information."

A Martyr.

"Mamma, have I got to take a bath tonight?"

"I'm afraid you have, my dear."

"But I haven't done anything all the week to deserve it."—New York Life.

A certain accountant is so devoted to his profession that when he has nothing else to do he casts up his eyes.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, small, safe, sure little liver pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quick climatic changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no cocaine, mercury nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Clever With the Cards.

Some years ago a certain county jail was undergoing extensive alterations, during which time a gang of pickpockets, four in number, were arrested one market day. Owing to the alterations the lot were confined for a time in one cell, but were placed under strict surveillance, the care of them being specially intrusted to the sergeant. The day after during his rounds he spied them playing cards, when he promptly opened the door and summoned a fellow constable, on whose arrival the cell and the prisoners were most carefully searched, but no cards were found. However, the card playing still continued until the day on which the pickpockets were to be sent to the assizes for trial. Then the superintendent, a very kind man and a great favorite with every one, asked them as a favor to tell him where they had hidden the cards. They told him that as soon as the sergeant and his comrade entered their cell they stuck the pack in his pocket and picked it again before he left, as a proof of which they presented him with the much used pack.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Bride's Dilemma.

A humorous romance is reported from Natal, where a youthful Hindoo bride was recently called upon to choose between her husband and her jewels. The case came before the Durban police court in the first instance, where the bride's parents, says the Natal Mercury, accused her husband of abducting her while under thirteen years of age. The bride, however, claimed to be eighteen, and the magistrate dismissed the case. Outside the court a tug of war took place between the two parties for the possession of the bride, in the course of which it appeared that what her parents particularly desired was not herself, but her jewelry. A sergeant of police then sat in judgment and decided that the jewelry belonged to the parents, and the girl must choose between her husband and her bracelets. After some cogitation she chose the husband, who promptly unfastened the bangles from her arms and handed them to her parents.

The Judge In Jail.

"I," said an esteemed magistrate, "spent a week in jail before I entered on my judgeship. I ate the prison food. I slept in a cell. I conformed with all the prison rules. I wore the prison clothes. I did the prison work. Thus I learned the value of the sentences I was to mete out later on. I got to know what a week, a month, a year, in jail meant. As a result I am more merciful than most judges. I think it would be a good thing if every judge before taking office would spend a little while in jail as I did. He would then know the value of prison sentences, a thing he doesn't know now. Now he is like a cashier who attempts to pay out money in a coinage of which he is ignorant. In Baden this thing I speak of must be done. Every judge in Baden before he takes his seat on the bench is required by law to pass weeks like a common prisoner in jail."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Eating Grasshoppers.

"No wonder I am brown," said a globe trotter. "I am just back from the Sahara. I spent two months wandering with a caravan of camels over that white expanse of sun warmed sand. The Sahara is like the beach at Atlantic City, a flat immensity of the whitest, cleanest sand, and the strangest thing I did in my wanderings was to eat desert grasshoppers. The Arabs regard these grasshoppers as a luxury, and I was tempted to try them, just as in Paris I have been tempted to try snails. The grasshoppers were good. You plucked off the wings, the legs and the head, and then you ate the dried body. This morsel tasted precisely like an English walnut. I ate grasshoppers several times, and when I return to the Sahara I am going to eat them again."

Spelling by Ear.

The young French stenographer, whose progress in English had not kept pace with her proficiency in shorthand, was puzzling over some notes she had taken of a recitation at a public entertainment.

As she transcribed them the recitation began like this:

La fanthi wurlaf swidheu,
Oui panju oui pelone.

"That's easy," said the expert to whom she submitted the notes. "It is part of a poem that begins:

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you,
Weep, and you weep alone."

—Chicago Tribune.

Law Term Explained.

"Well, proceed," said the lawyer.

"The plaintiff resorted to an ingenious use of circumstantial evidence," said the witness.

"For the benefit of the jury state in plainer language exactly what you mean by that," interrupted the judge.

"Well, my meaning is that he lied."

If Women Couldn't Read.

"Then you don't believe in higher education for women?"

"Certainly not. I think it's a shame to even teach 'em how to read. If a woman couldn't read the bargain advertisements, she wouldn't be so unhappy over the lots of things she can't afford to buy."

Her Advantage.

"Your daughter has an angelic disposition."

"Yes; we always let her have her own way about everything."

Nipped In the Bud.

Mudge—Which is proper to say, "Lend me $10," or "Loan me $10?" Wickwire—It won't do you any good to say either.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.
